

I take no exceptions to the use of HI-SSB, provided it does not exceed the accepted bandwidth restriction of 2.8 KHZ. Also note that those interested in this type of operation usually only use one or two frequencies per band at most. I do not see a conflict with current operations on any band. Those that do are merely involved in childish "turf wars".

Sincerely Yours,

Philip Neidlinger, PE